

- 5 Compare your feedback with a partner and ask your teacher to show you some sample feedback from the answers.
- 6 Write your own answer for the exam task. When you have finished, swap answers with another student and give them your feedback.

When you finish the exam task, take five minutes to review and check your work. Use the criteria on the feedback form to help you!

Exam tip!

Feedback Form
A	B
STYLE
Is it the right style for an article? Why / Why not.
ANSWERING THE QUESTION
Does the article answer the key points in the question?
Are all the points relevant?
Is it about the right length?
LANGUAGE
Give examples of good vocabulary the writer has used.
Has the writer used a variety of structures?
Give examples of any spelling or grammar you would correct.

- 4 Complete feedback forms for the writers. Be sensitive in your feedback!

Why now?
 The time now is right because we are starting some international projects and I shall be part of them. My company offered to pay for a language course. The number of our international client's is increasing. While negotiating with them, I felt the need to be more secure in my language skills.
 Despite these professional reasons I like to be abroad and I enjoy travelling very much. English is a language, that can help wherever you go.

I'm interested in history and art. London is a good place to enjoy those to topics because this city lives with his tradition and is full of art.

Why here?
 London is one of the most interesting cities in Europe. It is a cultural but also an economic centre. I have been to London four times, but only for business reasons. The more I saw of the city, the more I want to explore it.
 Another reason to choose London is, that I know some people here and I look forward to seeing them very much.

