

5 Choose a café or restaurant to write about. It can be one you know, or you can invent one. Look at the checklist and choose three things to include in your review.

how to find the place

one or two dishes from the menu what the service is like how the place is decorated who you went with the music that was played when it is open

whether the menu is expensive whether the place is popular what type of event the place is good for what type of meal the place is good for Exam tip!

There is a lot of information that can be included in a restaurant review. Check that you write the information that the question asks for.

6 Write your review using the information from the checklist. Try to include one or two adjectives from exercise 2.

7 Swap your reviews with a partner. Read your partner's review and complete the review card with marks out of five (1 = terrible, 5 = fantastic).

For food quality, this establishment scores  out of five.

The reviewer gives this establishment  out of five for atmosphere.

Overall this restaurant is  highly recommended worth a visit

nothing special

disappointing