Hi George

We're having a great time here at the campsite. We arrived at night, but luckily it only took three hours to put up the tent. We were tired when we woke up this morning and then we found we'd put up our tent in the campsite manager's garden. He was unhappy.

We all had chocolate biscuits and popcorn for breakfast this morning. Now we're off to the beach. It's good fun. We're all excited.

How are things? Why don't you join us? Send us a text when you're on your way and can you bring mosquito repellent?

Cheers!

Kai
